Do You Have Family History relating to WWI in Derby? Would you like to share this?

Living in the Past Community Archaeology Project (LIPCAP) will be holding an exhibition on home life in Derby during WWI on Sat. 19th July 2014, 1-4pm, at the Georgian House Hotel, Ashbourne Rd., Derby.

We would like to invite exhibit contributions from those with family or other connections with Derby in WWI. This may include family memories (e.g. recorded in diaries and letters) or stories passed down to surviving family members; family history information (e.g. relating to service at the front or on the home front); family photos (e.g. of people, such as soldiers and munition workers, and places, such as factories involved in war work); or mementoes and heirlooms. We will have a memory panel, so that the experiences of local families in WWI might be commemorated.
